

Northeast Alabama Genealogical Society
ANCESTOR SWAP MEET
APRIL 15, 2023, 9 AM – 3 PM
Sign in begins at 8:00 AM

Finally, an in person “Ancestor SWAP MEET” and Northeast Alabama Genealogical Society can’t wait to see everyone. Sorry for the increase in price but as you know the prices of everything has gone up.

We are happy to announce that J. Mark Lowe will be our speaker. He has a lineup of wonderful topics to show us the best research tips.

Early Colonial Immigration Records – Although official arrival records began in 1820, there are other documents to assist you as we follow their paths back to their original homes. We will take a look at the major available resources with some examples by locations.

When Did They Really Die? – We will look at the basics and dig through more complicated deaths and resulting estates. Uncover intestate divisions, coroners reports, insolvent estates, and contested wills while learning what you need to know.

Shaping a Profile for Your Farming Ancestor – Farming is a proud and honorable occupation. Discover the wide variety of resources and develop a rich profile of your farming ancestor and community using available resources.

Early Tracks and Trails Across the South – Using diaries, journals and maps we can locate the paths used by the earliest hunters and those well-noted trances leading families throughout the colonies & beyond. We will examine those tracks and trails followed by the buffalo herds, human feet, and the wagons of early settlement.

We are looking forward to seeing you on April 15th.
